FUTURE INDOOR BALL GAMES
TO BE SEVEN INNINGS EACH

Executive Committee of League Decides to Shorten Games From Now Until January 1, On Account of the Delays in Getting Games Started and Late Hour to Which Contests Continue.

At a special meeting of the executive committee of the Hancock Fraternity Indoor Baseball league last evening in Germania hall it was decided to shorten the length of the games, and henceforth, beginning with this evening, the matches will be only of seven innings each. This arrangement will continue in effect until January 1, when the shorter hours in the stores will begin after the holidays. It will then be possible to begin earlier and the nine inning games will be resumed.

The change was found necessary on account of the lateness of the hour when the second games played every Tuesday and Friday evenings are finished, it being usually about half past 11 before the end of the final inning. This is not liked by many of the spectators and the hall is practically deserted before the end of the games. Many of the players are unable to get to the hall before half past 8, resulting in a delay in starting, because the stores do not close until 8 o'clock. It was proposed to have only one game each evening, but it was contended that this would be unsatisfactory to the teams, as by this arrangement it would give the teams only about one game apiece during the month, and necessitate a complete change of the schedule. It was thought better to have the two games each evening as arranged, but to shorten their length by cutting them down to seven innings.

This evening the Foresters and Eagles and the Hibernians and Naval Reserves will play.

SOME GOOD SHOWS COMING.

Manager Kerredge Has Booked a Number of High-Class Attractions.

Manager Kerredge has announced some excellent dramatic productions for the Kerredge theatre during the next few months, some of which are of exceptional merit and have been among the most popular and notable of the attractions presented in the larger cities during the past couple of seasons. Among them will be a return engagement of "The Great Divide," William Vaughan Moody's great play, which made such a decided impression when produced here recently. Another big attraction will be "The Third Degree," another drama of American life that has created much discussion and elicited columns of comment in the press. "Polly of the Circus" by a strong New York company, Grace Von Studdiford, Al Wilson in "Metz in Ireland," "Paid in Full," "The Climax," and others equally noted, will be among the season's attractions, besides Frank E. Long's ever popular stock company, which will be here the latter part of the present month. The Thanksgiving attraction at the Kerredge will be the tuncful and original musical play "The Alaskan," with evening performances on November 24 and 25 and matinee Thanksgiving Day. On November 23 there will be a musical company here under the auspices of the Grace M. E. church lyceum course and on the 26th there will be another under the same auspices, the latter being the recital of "Ingomar, the Barbarian," a well known drama which was made famous by Mary Anderson. The Howe moving pictures on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week will be a strong drawing card, and seats for this attraction will go on sale at the Kerredge hardware store on Friday morning at 8 o'clock.

MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION
GROWING IN MEMBERSHIP

The Portage Lake Business Men's association is constantly increasing in membership, having now fifty-three members, six having been admitted since the last general meeting a few weeks ago. In a short time it is believed the membership will have reached seventy-five and it is not improbable, according to prominent members, that one hundred members will be enrolled before many weeks. The association has been found of great mutual benefit to those who have joined and its advantages are such that it is believed to be to the interests of all the business men of the two towns to belong to it.

The old Hancock Business Men's association, which was formed about five years ago to interest itself in matters pertaining to the general advancement of the city's interests, is still inactive and shows no sign of resuscitation. Its membership at present seems to consist mainly of its president, Henry L. Baer, and secretary, J. A. Close, who from time to time receive communications from commercial clubs in various parts of the country, and from parties inquiring relative to the advantages offered for business firms to locate here. Nothing remarked to his patient who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after his efforts had failed. "Mrs. Weber, I do not believe in patent medicines, but I will say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine ever discovered for women. Continue to use it." This is another link in the long chain of evidence to prove the reliability of this standard medicine for women.

The question of holding an entertainment for charity under the auspices of the Hancock lodge of Elks was discussed at a regular meeting last evening, but no action was taken except the referring of the matter to the entertainment committee to look into a number of propositions and report at a later meeting. It is expected that a show of some kind will be put on, in accordance with the annual custom, and that something unusually good will be selected for presentation. The shows given in the past by the Elks have been among the best amateur performances presented by local talent, and if it is decided to put one on this year efforts will be made to have it surpass anything the Elks have yet offered.

Regarding the matter of observing the annual memorial day of the Elks on the first Sunday in December, it was decided to do nothing until it has been learned what Calumet proposes to do. Last year the Calumet and Hancock lodges united in a joint observance held at the Elks temple in this city, and if the Calumet lodge has decided to hold one next month the Hancock members are willing to unite with them.

The lodge decided to give a grand social session on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, November 24, for which an exceptionally elaborate program will be arranged and one of the biggest sessions of the kind of the season is anticipated. The matter of making arrangements is in the hands of the entertainment committee who will see to securing of talent and providing a first-class lunch.

has as yet been done in relation to calling a meeting to take up the proposition of providing a site for the proposed furniture factory, to employ six hundred men, which capitalists of the county are contemplating organizing, and no steps have been taken as yet to call a meeting to consider the matter.
